Awful Scenes In Poland At The Scene Of The Riots...Troops Are Powerless.

STREETS RUNNING WITH BLOOD

Hospitals Full Of Dead And Dying---Loaded Into Carts By The Troops, For Burial---Battle Wages.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.]

Warsaw, June 24.—The reign of terror continues at Lodz, the casualties yesterday and last night being estimated at two thousand. During the night the Cossacks frequently charged the workmen who repelled from barricades, windows and house-tops.

Troops Charge

Colonel Rejenski was severely injured while leading a charge of the troops. Two bombs were thrown into the soldiers' barracks and killed and injured twenty men. Many of the dead are still lying in the streets. In response to a call for assistance the governor sent three regiments and a force of cavalry to Lodz. The factories and shops are closed. No newspapers appeared this morning. Workmen throughout the city today responded to a call of the Polish socialists for a general strike and business is suspended as a result. As yet there is no disturbance in this city.

One Hundred and Thirty

So far as ascertainable one hundred and thirty were killed outright in the fighting yesterday. Forty-one more died in the hospitals during the night. Of the wounded three hundred and twenty sustained slight injuries. All the hospitals are full and in many cases the wounded are lying upon the floors.

Bloody Rioting

The bloody rioting continued all day Friday and at eleven o'clock all the factory hands struck and locked to the streets. The soldiers charged the mobs, firing volley after volley into the surging mass. The rioters replied with revolvers and missiles of every character.

Riots This Morning

The rioters this morning attempted to set fire to the government offices but were scattered by a strong force of troops. A workman was murdered in the streets during the night for refusing to strike. In the fighting Thursday night two officers and seven Cossacks were killed, one of the latter being shot by a girl of thirteen.

Cart Dead Off

The dead were carted off to the cemeteries in the military wagons, the troops acting as undertakers. Many of the wounded died because of lack of medical attention. The casualties up to noon were eighteen.

More Rioting

The rioting this afternoon spread to the town of Czenstochau, Poland. The strikers organized a demonstration and paraded the streets, carrying red flags and singing revolutionary songs. They refused to disperse when commanded. The Cossacks charged, killing 23 and wounding 85. The bakers have joined the strike and a bread famine is threatened.

More Killed

A report from Lodz at three this afternoon says the number of killed today is 33. The official reports place the number killed yesterday at 171.

INDIAN FRAUDS ARE NEXT ON LIST TO BE EXPOSED

Eight Officials In Indian Territory Are Mixed Up In The Charge Of Graft.

Washington, June 24.—As a result of patient and persistent work on the part of Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock, eight officials and lawyers in Indian Territory have been indicted for frauds in connection with the issuance of school fund warrants. They are Treasurer Ward and Gov. Johnson of the Chickasaw nation, United States Marshal Colbert, Banker Purdom, Attorneys Mahsfield, McMurray and Cornish and ex-Gov. Moseley of the Chickasaw nation.

Congress at its last session voted an appropriation of $300,000 to pay the warrants held by teachers and other employees of the schools of the Chickasaw nation. Some of them had been bought by speculators for from 40 to 60 per cent of their value, in the expectation of receiving 100 per cent from the government.

Probe Exposes Corruption.

Before making the distribution Secretary Hitchcock directed an investigation to be made and it developed some of the warrants after having been paid had been released.

In this way $60,000 or $100,000 had gone into the pockets of the men making the payments on behalf of the government. The secretary at once stopped payments and turned the facts over to the department of justice. The district attorney was ordered to present the cases to the grand jury.

Secretary Hitchcock intends to prosecute the men to the full extent of the law, and will take measures to secure the restitution of stolen money.

Secured Large Fee.

The firm of Mansfield, McMurray & Cornish is the same one that held the government up for a fee of $750,000 in connection with the legal proceedings relative to the distribution of tribal lands. Secretary Hitchcock endeavored to compel them to accept $250,000, which he thought an exorbitant fee, but was unsuccessful. There was considerable satisfaction in the department that the grand jury has found sufficient evidence to warrant the prosecution of all three.

Secretary Hitchcock has been watching the Indians' Territory matter for a long time. He has devoted twelve months especially to the Indian school scandal. The president heartily approves of his policy the effect of which has been not only to protect the treasury of the United States but to save the lands and funds of Indian tribes.

MORTON'S DEPARTURE MAY CLOSE INQUIRY

Thought in Washington That He Will Not Be Prosecuted After His Retirement.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, June 24.—It is generally circulated here, and the report can be traced to those who are in a position to know, that when Secretary of the Navy Paul Morton retires from the cabinet next week, it will be the last of the Santa Fe inquiry as far as he is concerned, for he will not be prosecuted in connection with the famous rebate case. This is the general interpretation put on the developments of the week in the controversy between Attorney-general Morton and Judson Harmon and Frederick N. Judson which has resulted in these lawyers retiring from the case because Mr. Moody had refused to accept their recommendations to prosecute without fear and favor all the officials of the offending corporations. It seems that the evidence developed by the Interstate Commerce Commission clearly indicated that Paul Morton, as second vice-president of the Santa Fe was one of the officials cognizant of the rebate transactions. Mr. Morton severed his connection with the administration a week from today. He has practically turned the navy department to Assistant Secretary Darling, and is spending most of his time in New York looking after Equitable affairs.

FEAR INTRIGUE MAY CAUSE WAR

France Reply To Germany On The Moroccan Question Is Not Satisfactory.

PANICKY SENTIMENT IN PARIS NOW

French Journals Urge The Statesmen To Keep Cool---Feeling Exists Conference Will Bring Peace.

Berlin, June 24.—The absence of any definite acceptance of Germany's Moroccan plans in the French note received Friday increases war prospects. German statesmen believe that France and England are intriguing for war with the Kaiser.

Germany's intentions remain thoroughly pacific, but government circles here apprehend the possibility that intrigues will result in inflaming the French people against Germany to such an extent that war cannot be easily avoided.

The French note, owing to its great length, had to be sent by mail to Berlin instead of by telegraph. The foreign office, while declining to discuss the points of the note in detail, admits that it leaves the situation where it was before.

Germany's answer to Premier Rouvier has not yet been considered. It will require considerable time in order to meet all the points raised.

FRANCE FEARS CLASH.

Paris, June 24.—In spite of the reassuring tone of the official communication issued after the cabinet council, public uneasiness was accentuated over the strained relations between France and Germany. This produced a panicky sentiment on the bourse, where heavy offers of rentes sent down prices to the unusual figure of 97.90.

Parliamentary circles also continued to show a feeling of nervousness, and apprehension. This was increased by the publication in the sensational afternoon papers of maps showing the dispositions of the French and German military forces along the frontier, accompanied by interviews setting forth the gloominess of the situation and the belief that Germany's reply to the French note would increase the difficulties of the government.

Press Is Disappointed.

The evening newspapers frankly express their disappointment with the French note. Much had been staked upon Premier Rouvier's ostensible wish to come to an understanding with Germany, but the Vossische Zeitung, discussing the note, says M. Rouvier is continuing M. Delcasse's policy without M. Delcasse.

The newspapers all emphasize the fact that the French note leaves the differences where they were before regarding their bearings upon the projected Moroccan conference. It is remarked that M. Rouvier has just succeeded in leaving the room for an acceptance of the conference if this becomes absolutely necessary.

Warns France to Keep Cool.

The Journal des Debats and other important evening papers strongly counsel the public to preserve calm and coolness, urging the people as a public duty to give their moral support to the government.

A semi-official statement has appeared summing up the main features of the French note. It said that, instead of seeking to avoid a conference, the note invites an exchange of views, thus distinctly showing that France does not reject the principle of a conference. The note further explains French policy in Morocco, thus meeting Germany's complaint that she had heretofore been deprived of information relative to the development of Morocco.

PRESIDENT SHEA IS VERY DEFIANT STILL

Says That a General Tie-Up of All Business Will Follow Vote on Peace.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.]

Chicago, June 24.—President Shea of the Teamsters' union said today he would vote against accepting any peace proposition of the employers upon which the various local unions of teamsters take referendum next week. Shea renewed his talk of calling a general strike and tying up business in this city. Heretofore he has opposed this arguing that the strength of the teamsters lies in keeping a large portion of the men at work in order to furnish strike benefits. Shea said if the rank and file reject the terms submitted by the peace commission it is not probable they will be asked to vote on a general strike proposition.

SIDEWALKS AND REPAIRING THEM

CITIZEN OFFERS INTERESTING LETTERON SUBJECT.

CITY'S WORK TO MAINTAIN

Throws a Little Compliment to Police for Getting After Street Loc. rs.

Janesville, Wis., June 24, 1905.
Editor Gazette: Something on the side this morning. Sidewalks—yes, sir! The old board sidewalks, placed where ordered by the city council, and left to go to smash, or let for one to go to smash on them, at taxpayers' expense. The old board sidewalks in many parts of the city are going to rot, in many cases the boards are broken, leaving holes or parts broken, which will not bear the weight of a child, over a depth of two or three inches, for any sized ankle or leg, and then what a chance for damages, law suits, etc., etc. Employing any number of men to place these walks in a safe condition today, and kept so. Why, only one week ago, a lady and gentleman were walking along up Oakland avenue, each happily interested in the other, when the lady suddenly halted and would have fallen heavily and prostrated on the sidewalk, but was happily caught in her escort's arms. The pleasantly embarrassing circumstances called for an investigation. It was found that the lady was wearing the ridiculous fad, high-heeled shoes. She had stepped on a thin board, which broke and the heel was detached from the shoe, sinking to a considerable depth. It was a corker, and yet not exactly so, for the heel was made of wood. Now while no personal injury was sustained by the lady, her predicament was the most unpleasant—no heel on the left shoe, a high heel on the right, and in trying to continue her preambulations caused a side step towards and against her modern escort. By a little thought, (the ladies are superior thinkers as a rule) the whole thing was quickly adjusted. The lady requested the gentleman to remove the heel from the right shoe, when she slipped along home, thus ends this true story.

On the day following the above narrative, we had occasion to walk about our pretty city and while passing so many of these bad places in the wooden walks, we made a record, in the interest of taxpayers, and found sixty-one places where accidents might occur and where the city might get elected in sums ranging from $75 to $500.

No amount of money will compensate a human, for a broken bone or permanent injury to back. "Economy is wealth." Is it good economy to allow any board sidewalk to exist unless inspected weekly by a competent, faithful man, one who will work industriously, even for the city? We have no good Mr. Ross now for sidewalk inspector. Today—this moment is our—before this ink gets cold we may hear of more claims vs. city—account personal injuries, loss of society and support, etc., etc.

The building of sidewalks as residence property outside of business districts reminds us of the great injustice done to many here, in ordering sidewalks built beyond their line, which they do not own, cannot occupy, cannot sell, and it would seem that many of such sidewalks are unnecessarily ordered constructed. We are not in any way versed in law, but law is supposed to be founded on justice. To appeal on any order given for sidewalks is expensive, the appellant can hardly afford the venture. In this connection, we are reminded of what has been told us by good authority that sidewalks in the cities of Fairbury, or Champagne, we've forgotten which, that whether in business or residence districts, the council orders the property owners to build such walks as prescribed and forever after the city will maintain them. Again, the writer once owned a lot, 4x8, in the First ward, good house, fairly good shade trees, heavy good pine plank walk in front, pickets and big tight board fence surrounding lot, and rope on front gate to keep cows and pigs out. This was when cows, horses, pigs, geese and every species of animal or feathered tribes were free commoners, and good whisky sold at three cents a glass, fingers not counted. Now, free commoners in a city young of course at that time, say 47 years ago, was a disgrace to endure and besides, a tax of no mean amount, upon the rich and poor alike, to build and keep up fences to keep other people's cows and hogs off the premises. In those days the city had aldermen. On one fine afternoon an alderman appeared at our door and ordered a board sidewalk on the 8-rod side, we protested as there was no walk on that side of the street at that time. He replied that he agreed with me at the injustice imposed.

He did not think it was good law, or even law at all, to require such work done but his constituency (one man) had so requested and the council so ordered. This one man wanted a sidewalk started at our corner which would bring about a continuation of said walk to his premises and thence on. We was once in our employ. Used planks to go to his pigs in the rear of his lot and bars for a front gate. We used some fire words, but yielded and built our sidewalk at once. What consistency for the insistency of such constituency. The alderman is dead, his then constituency is also dead, and one of those nights we will all be dead for a long time.

Finally, the "world do move" the good policemen are getting after the street loafers, the stairway gawks, the women loafers. There is now for the police on the highways and the byways, not too much on the corners as good "Old Fogey" used to relate. Your sincerely,

"CITIZEN."

WISCONSIN CROP SHOWS DECREASE

Less Tobacco Growing This Year Than in 1904—Increase in Rock—Other News for Growers.

Less tobacco is being grown in Wisconsin this year than in 1904. According to figures reported from the field the decrease is small on the whole though Dane county, one of the largest producing sections, shows an apparent falling off of at least ten per cent. This great decrease is partially made up by an increase of from five to ten per cent in Rock and Vernon counties.

A Cut Worm Destroyer.
John L. Hopkins, of the Western Tobacco Journal, of Woodford County, Ky., states that he tried the following receipt taken from a bulletin of the State Experiment Station for exterminating cut worms and found it a great success: Twenty-five pounds of water and 25 pounds of shipstuf made into a dough and sweetened with molasses, and 1½ pound of Paris green thoroughly dissolved, mixed into it. Pieces of the dough about the size of guinea eggs were dropped into the field about four feet apart. All the cut worms were cleaned up in a single night and Mr. Hopkins has not lost a plant since.

Small Cigars Not Cigarettes.
Judge H. M. Elliott, of Marion, Ind., on May 23rd, rendered a decision in the case of the State vs. Irwin Rohrer, charged with having several small cigars in his possession. Rohrer made the defense that he had in his possession small cigars. The court decided that the tubular rolls of tobacco, wrapped in a tobacco leaf, could not be definitely determined as cigarettes and dismissed the defendant.

Nebraska in Line.
The anti-cigarette law of Nebraska goes into effect July 1st, and provides a fine of not less than $50 nor more than $100, for anyone who manufactures, sells, gives away or allows to be taken any cigarettes or material for their composition known as cigarette paper in the state of Nebraska.

Togo Not Forgotten.
An unmerited aspersion on the enterprise of cigar manufacturers, says the U. S. Tobacco Journal, is cast by a writer in a Western newspaper, who says that it is now some time since the great Japanese naval victory over the Russians but so far there is no "Togo" cigar to commemorate the fact. The name "Togo" was registered with the U. S. Tobacco Journal within a few days after the opening of the war more than a year ago, when the admiral's name just became famous through his exploits outside Port Arthur. The morning after the news of the great battle on the Sea of Japan reached this country no less than eight applications for registration of the title reached the bureau of the U. S. Tobacco Journal. No, the American manufacturer is not "losing his push and progressiveness," as the writer fears, if he did, he would drop out of the race.

Labor Notes

The New York State Department of Labor reports that the workers of that state are better organized than those of any other state or country in the world. Members of labor unions in Great Britain and Ireland number 1,992,308, in Germany 1,376,831, in France 715,576, and New York 400,000. The ratio is one to each eighteen inhabitants in New York, one to twenty-two in Great Britain, one to forty-four in Germany, and one to fifty-three in France.

The trade unions of London, England, number 411,000 members, with accumulated funds to the amount of $1,200,000.

In order to give employment to the union chimney workers, who were thrown out of work by manufacturers declaring "open shop" and installing blowing machines, the American Flint Glass Workers' Union, the national organization of the workmen, will erect three big chimney factories. One will be erected in West Virginia, one in Pennsylvania and one in Indiana.

The Japanese papers contain statements that the Tokio government has issued an order prohibiting the further emigration of laborers to Hawaii.

REV. CHARLES BIER CELEBRATED MASS

Visiting Clergy from Several Cities Participated at St. Mary's

Thursday.

Rev. Charles Bier of this city who has been preparing for the priesthood in St. Francis seminary, Milwaukee, during the past ten years and who was ordained in that city last Sunday morning, presided at his first mass celebration in Janesville Thursday morning. The ceremony where-in the newly ordained priest officiated at the altar for the first time is one of the most beautiful of the Catholic church. There were assembled on this occasion several visiting clergy from Milwaukee, Jefferson, Oshkosh, Dubuque, Chicago, and other places.

Rev. Charles Olson of the first named city acted as assistant priest, Rev. Pfeiffer of Oshkosh as deacon, Rev. Fabisson of Milwaukee as sub-deacon, and three students of the seminary as master of ceremonies and acolytes.

St. Mary's church was filled with friends who had come to honor the young priest long before the hour for the solemn service was at hand. The mass rendered in honor of St. Gregory was by Prof. John Singenberger and this portion of the program was carried out according to the latest rules promulgated by the present pope. Prof. Francis Kneerschild acted as director and Prof. Otto Sigebarger presided at the organ. Classmates of Rev. Bier made up the twenty-five male voices of the choir and the musical portion of the ceremonies was perhaps the most beautiful ever heard in this city. Rev. Bier was accompanied to the altar by an imposing procession, his little five-year-old niece, Helen, acted as bride, Rev. Fathers Ryan and Berg of St. Francis preached the sermon.

Father Bier was the recipient of a number of beautiful gifts, including a handsome gold chalice which was used for the first time at this service. At the close of the ceremonial visiting priests, students, and invited guests to the number of 150 enjoyed a banquet in St. Mary's hall. Rev. Father W. A. Goebel proved a pleasant host and the day one not soon to be forgotten.

POPULAR SONG GETS ON JASPER'S NERVES

Whole Nonesuch Menagerie Set in an Uproar by the Elephant's Musical Effusions.

No one had ever suspected "Jasper," the trained elephant, of musical predilections. He was known at the fair-grounds zoo as an incorrigible joker, but that was all. As a troubadour—even the Pierson foxes would have sneered at the idea!

The trick camel, "Fabian," contentedly masticating a wisp of hay, was lost in abstraction as he contemplated the distant horizon. The giant pythons were fast asleep.

Even "Eddie Fay," the Koshkonong wolf, had ceased to snarl and rage in his den. "Hennerly," the eccentric and deferential camelopard was bending low, engaged in a whispered conversation with "McTavish," the orang-outang.

Rehearsal was over and quiet, almost oppressive, reigned in the big menagerie—when the elephant, who had been downtown to test the whosback power of the street-roller-chariot, trumpeted shrilly at the gate.

As it opened for him the great quadruped raised up to his haunches and began to waltz—daintily, almost gracefully—and horror of horrors—sing!

"He's got it too—in the Shade of the Old Apple Tree!"—said the wise old bison in a loud aside. "The thing gets on your nerves—just like THAT!"

"Worse than 'The Good Old Summer Time,'" suggested the polar bear.

"But," interposed the kangaroo, "what kind of words he singing to the tune? It's the chorus over and over again. Listen:

In the shade of the old banyan tree We've gathered this fine family— Noah's efforts outdone By a hundred and one, Queer sprigs of most rare pedigree.

Was a sight for the fish of the sea, Fakir and fake prod-egs! Burr Robbins' no more— On the bright, shining shore, He's laughing at this jamboree.

...Forty Years Ago...

Janesville Daily Gazette, Saturday, June 24, 1865.—Lively.—What with the great show and the excursion from Madison, our streets today have presented something like the old-time activity.

Personal.—Dr. Henry Palmer, formerly of this city, has been appointed surgeon of Camp Douglas, Chicago. He entered upon the duties of his office last Wednesday.

The 31st regiment, Brevet Brigadier General West commanding, passed through Janesville yesterday afternoon, on their way to Madison to be mustered out.

Something New.—In Milwaukee, the latest novelty in the way of public entertainment, is the game of blind man's buff. A large hall is used for this purpose, and an admission fee of twenty-five cents is charged. The proceeds go to the Soldiers' Home.

New Ice Cream Saloon.—Mr. John Zeininger, a few doors south of the Norris house on Main street, has fitted up in a neat manner, a room where one can sit down and really enjoy a dish of ice cream. In addition to the comforts of the room the cream is of excellent quality.

Burial of the Dead.—The work of interring the remains of the deceased soldiers, both rebel and Union, on the battlefields from Chancellorville to Richmond, is progressing favorably, under the direction of Captain J. M. Moore, who has about five hundred men at work, guarded by a full regiment of troops, to protect them from molestation. Headboards are being erected bearing inscriptions and such information of the deceased as can be obtained. This information is to be registered at Captain Moore's office for the benefit of those interested.

The arrival of immigrants at New York last week numbered 7,444; being the largest total of any week thus far this season. The arrivals, moreover, are steadily increasing from week to week.

WITH SASH AND VELVET RIBBONS

A remarkably smart toilette is constructed from apparently incompatible materials. A broad sash ribbon, white, with Dresden dowered printing in pale yellow, two shades of rose pink and some faint green in the foliage to offer some relief, is combined with white embroidered mousseline de soie, a narrow ribbon in pale yellow and some very clever touches of black velvet expressed in the pointed strap girdle, and a multitude of small mold buttons that dot the trim-ming design all over. The bodice follows bolero lines, this of the sash ribbon, edged throughout with velvet, and the under blouse is of the mousseline. The sleeve is similar in make, the ribbon making a scant puff over a band of lace edged with the narrow ribbon and dotted with buttons. The skirt is fashioned of the mousseline, panel effects made with lace scarfs edged with quilted ribbon and dotted either side with an irregular row of buttons. The broad printed ribbon is applied in flounce design, ruffled top and bottom with the narrow edging of lace entre-deux and finished with puffed frills of mousseline at the foot.

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT.

Under the title, "God's Agents," C. F. Allen recently delivered an address before the Texas Bankers' Association in which he said:

"When Queen Isabella backed Columbus in his voyage of discovery she was inspired by the spirit of the ideal underwriter. She appropriated none of the public funds of her realm for the purpose. If any of her subjects had deposited their money with her for safe-keeping in the royal castle she did not presume to touch it. She ventured only her own resources. If anybody else had desired to participate in the Columbus scheme she might properly have added their resources to her own, but history does not tell us that participants were forthcoming, and Isabella financed the enterprise alone.

"The mantle of Isabella has descended to such modern financiers as the Rothschilds and our own Morgan, Schiff, Speyer and Belmont. People of higher character—people better appreciating the value of character—never lived. Isabella and her followers, the daring bankers who finance the industries and nations of the world, should be recognized as God's instruments of progress."

This sort of doctrine, coming at a time when the tide of popular sentiment is so strong against men possessed of great wealth, is very refreshing. People like to believe, and they like to be encouraged in the belief, that the accumulation of wealth is a crime.

The statement is frequently made that the wealth of the country is getting into the hands of a few men, and that this little coterie is a menace to the welfare of the nation.

Some people go so far as to say that laws should be enacted which would prevent men from accumulating property beyond a certain amount.

Labor organizations are conducted so exclusively in what is termed the interests of labor, that men are taught to believe that an 8 or 9 hour day, and restricted production, is of more benefit than all other interests.

Public journals denounce corporate wealth and dilate upon the "grinding monopoly," until many people believe that they are taxed for the air they breathe, as well as for God's free sunlight.

The atmosphere is so full of this sort of sedition that it has come to be a popular belief, and an army of people who never met Mr. Rockefeller, Mr. Morgan and men of this class are ready to denounce them as criminals of the darkest hue.

The railroad, which stretches its bands of steel across the continent, overcoming obstacles and surmounting barriers which seem impassable, and opening up a highway for the benefit of all the people, has come to be regarded as a personal enemy and national and state legislation is sought to check imaginary ravages.

The man at the breakfast table enjoys his fruit from the coast 3,000 miles away, and damns the railroad which makes it possible for him to secure it.

He is whirled through the country at the speed of the bird and curses the men whose brain and money made the "limited" a possibility.

It speaks well for Mr. Allen that he possessed the hardihood to say a good word for "God's patient rich," for it indicates that here and there are men who have not been carried off their feet by the tide of unrest and criticism.

There are a few things which people are prone to overlook in discussing men of great wealth, who enjoy their inheritance as the result of marked ability.

The great factory building covering acres of ground and furnishing employment to a small army of men, are attractive, because of their prominence.

Wherever located, the city which enjoys their presence points with pride to the industry which adds to population as well as to the value of all kinds of property.

noted for baronness, because of unproductive soil, and the lurid light from scores of these wells flashes up in the night like myriads of camp fires. Land quadruples in value at a single bound, and the men along the pipe lines which honeycombed the district, are prosperous and happy.

Who opened up the country and converted the barren land, making it productive and valuable. Oh, that arch fiend Rockefeller, whose tainted money smells of the pit and whose doom is sealed.

Twenty-five years ago the Chicago & Northwestern Railway company extended its South Dakota line from Tracy, 300 miles west, to the Missouri River.

The country traversed was an uninhabited desert. Much of the land was unsurveyed and the western terminal of the road was nothing but an old Indian fort, surrounded by an Indian reservation which extended west to the Black Hills.

For ten years after the line was completed the country was cursed with drought and hot winds, and the early settlers, who attempted to reclaim the desert, were driven from the field.

The railroad company carried these people into the territory at a normal price and brought hundreds of them back free of charge and the enterprise, during these years, was a rat hole for the corporation's money.

But the road was inspired and built by sublime faith in the future, and today the country is a garden and the desert has been made to blossom like the rose.

Who was the man behind the enterprise and whose money was poured into it like water? Oh, it was a part of the great Vanderbilt system, another multi-millionaire whose presence is a disgrace to civilization. "Down with the trust and corporation." They have no right to exist on American soil.

This is the kind of sentiment that is so popular these days, and discussed so glibly by a lot of people whose tongue has no brain attachment, encouraged by a class of writers whose equipment along all practical lines is equally meagre.

It is quite possible that Mr. Rockefeller could have managed to live for the past 20 years without dabbling in oil, but how about the 160,000 men in his employ and how about the price of oil, which steadily declined under intelligent and enterprising management, from 40c to 10c per gallon.

Mr. Vanderbilt and the men associated with him to the great railway enterprises of the country, would manage to live, if they had never invested a dollar in property of this kind, but how about the great army of workmen who find employment and many of them a competency because of these investors.

Behind all enterprises, whether great or small, is the man, not the men, because the work of the brain differs from the work of the hand.

The shop may employ 100 men, or ten times that number, and these men may faithfully perform the work in hand, but back of the enterprise is a single brain, which made it possible for the industry to exist.

The man who pays out $100 a week to labor is more of a blessing to any community than the man who spends the same amount for charity.

When this is multiplied a thousand fold the realm of great philanthropists is entered and Mr. Allen is right when he classifies these men of great ability and willing disposition as "God's agents."

It is high time for the American people to stop damning wealth and the ability to secure it, and learn to appreciate the fact that the nation owes its greatness, as well as its marvelous progress, very largely to the men who have both ability and money to invest, and who possess the willingness to make the investment.

Should they retire from the field for a single year, chaos would result. Enterprises, either large or small, never establish or conduct themselves.

A little factory employing 24 men, had a strike two years ago. The proprietor said to the men: "Boys, I will sell you the plant for $3,400."

"They raised the money and bought it, and the 24 men attempted to run it. In less than six months half of them were out, and in a year only two were left, and the old employer was urged to take the plant back.

This was co-operation and equal distribution on a small scale. The principle is wrong and the men who are shouting the loudest today for reform along these lines, would be leading a strenuous life if confronted with a $50 Saturday night pay roll.

There is room enough in this land for both capital and labor, but no room for either socialism nor anarchy, and the men who teach these damnable doctrines, deserve banishment.

The Madison Journal has had two narrow escapes for its financial hide this past winter yet its editor can never learn that handling with fire and waving the brands about injures the very men who aided him by burning their habitations.

Governor La Follette does not need a press agent to herald his coming. He has received more free notices than any other one ring attraction that was ever exhibited.

Some men are like the lilies of the field. They toil not, neither do they spin, but they get the money and all the credit for being wise boys.

When graft is mentioned in the same breath as labor union leaders there is a hue and cry. The yellow journals extol the labor leaders to the skies.

Madison has awakened up from its Rip Van Winkle sleep of twenty years and will asphalt its streets as ordered.

Cold nights the camper remembers that Greeley suffered much at the North pole he did not find.

Sweden is polite and Norway more so. It is Alphonse and Gaston in their daily conferences.

PRESS COMMENT.

La Crosse Leader-Press: Here's hoping the census enumerators will find as many of us as we think are here.

Sheboygan Journal: The Universal Peace Union is trying to pull Carnegie's leg for $20,000,000. Peace could be bought anywhere for that sum.

Exchange: Tammany Chieftan Murphy recently wore knee breeches at a "function." The fact that he still lives proves that Tammany is not what it used to be.

Fond du Lac Commonwealth: Wednesday being the first day of summer, the weather man thoughtfully marked up a frost for northern Wisconsin.

Bryan's Commonwealth: The new Equitable arrangement looks very much like another case of hiding the public's medicine in some beautifully colored jelly.

Racine News: The argument in favor of electing United States senators by direct vote of the people will have more force when the people by their direct votes send a higher class of men to the house.

Chicago Tribune: "A handful of our men," says Teamster Shea, "can wreck the city more than half a million in any other line." What Shea needs is rest and a change of scene. The strike has gone to his head.

Exchange: A French engineer thinks a railway could be built around the earth, including a tunnel under Bering strait, for $250,000,000. Probably a few more things might cause him to alter his figures a little.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat: The Norwegians are trying to embarrass President Roosevelt by appealing to him for recognition. All of the nations seem to take delight in casting their burdens at Uncle Sam's door.

Milwaukee Sentinel: And now comes Prof. Howard of the University of Nebraska with the charge that honorary degrees are "a species of graft in education." What a wonderfully elastic term "graft" is becoming, to be sure!

Chicago Record-Herald: It has been legally declared in England that a man who works for his living is not a gentleman. This is rather rough, but let us give the English courts credit for one thing. It didn't decide that men who toll are gents.

Rockford Register-Gazette: Banker Jewett, who "misapplied" the funds of a Massachusetts bank, has been pardoned by the president because of his ill health. Banker Bigelow still is sticking to the hospital in Leavenworth prison in the hope that the president will take notice.

Sheboygan Journal: Prof. Meyer of the University of Wisconsin "is to serve on the Wisconsin rate commission. Some of the railroad presidents who have worked their way up from section hands and switchmen probably will ask what a college professor knows about practical "railroading."

London Illustrated News: It is a reflection on our intelligence that we spend so much time on our food and so much more time in talking about it. It is the perversion of the human mind to occupy itself with the incidental. We must eat, of course, but what a needless bother there is about the dishes and the cookery and the garnish!

Racine Times: The stories of the consummate wickedness and villainy of the labor leaders of Chicago and of the manner in which some of the business men of the city have conspired with the union leaders to rob the public is indeed sickening. The developments must nauseate the honest men earning their bread by the sweat of their brow. It but shows the darkest side of trades unionism and the trades unionist is only a man—and the leaders are sometimes the worst instead of the best in the body.

Green Bay Gazette: Something of a ruction has been caused by the determination of the railway companies operating in Wisconsin, to strictly obey recent legislation in regard to reduced passenger fares by cutting off the sale of "landseekers' tickets." As these tickets have been extensively used in bringing prospective settlers into northern Wisconsin for the purpose of examining lands in that region, real estate men dealing in this kind of real estate find serious objections to the law from their viewpoint. This granting of reduced rates to such passengers will probably be one of the first questions brought before the new railroad commission for settlement.

La Crosse Chronicle: A boy was hanged in Illinois yesterday for the murder of a girl. He was a game boy and on the scaffold he sneered. Only once did he break down before the ordeal; he went to his death with a smile on his white lips. But he begged his mother not to attend the execution. He feared he might lose self-control and come to realize the enormity of his crime, not only against her whom he had slain but against her whose aged heart he had broken.

A common chord in the human bosom is touched by the story. How many boys would go wrong if they stopped to think of the consequences to their mothers and how many, having bowed that gray head in sorrow, dare for an instant acknowledge to themselves what they have done? Like the Illinois boy, natures which can face death, in any form, without flinching, cannot endure the terrible reproach of the soul of the son who has crushed his mother in her old age.

Chicago Inter Ocean: It seems clear that the accident to the Twentieth Century limited on Wednesday night was not due to high speed, to fault in cars or roadbed, or to the employment of incompetent men on the train, but to the malicious or thoughtless act of some one who locked a switch open. This brings up the old question of human fallibility and emphasizes the importance of two sets of watches and the necessity for rigid inspection. In this case it seems to have been taken for granted that, as the switch at Mentor was right half an hour before the limited train was due, it necessarily would be in proper position when the train passed. It seems inconceivable that a sane man could have locked the switch open through malice or desire to take revenge on the railway management. But the fact that the switch was locked open shows that absolutely nothing can be taken for granted where the safety of passengers is concerned. However, as a misplaced switch would have been as disastrous to a slow train as to a fast one, the logic of the Mentor accident is not to the condemnation of fast trains, and there is no good reason why this deplorable affair should be cited in argument for a slower schedule between here and New York.

Milwaukee Free Press: Since the publication of the president's letter dismissing Bowen, that gentleman has written a public statement that is of a sensational character. He says that shortly after he called the attention of the state department at Washington to the "Loomis scandal," he received a cable offer of a diplomatic appointment that would take him from Caracas; that he believed this offer was inspired by Loomis, and quotes a letter from Loomis to one Russell, admitting that he purchased the "Mucado claim" against the government of Venezuela, as a speculation. He intimates that the president has a "heated imagination" when he says that he—Bowen—instigated the charges against Loomis, and pointedly adds that he is neither responsible for Mr. Loomis' unsavory reputation at Caracas nor for the circulation of scandalous reports about him. He suggests what will strike people as a reasonable request, that there shall be "an open, impartial, fearless and thorough investigation into all the facts." We trust that the president, or congress, will order such an investigation.

SUMMER SESSION AT UNIVERSITY OPENS

Hot Weather Work Commences Monday—Many Public Lectures on the Program.

Madison—Before the last echoes of commencement died away, or the last senior had reluctantly packed up and departed, had begun the influx of students who are to attend the summer session, which opens on Monday, June 26. Although a number of students arrived today, the greater number will come on Monday, registration day, in order to be ready for the regular work of the summer session which begins on Tuesday morning.

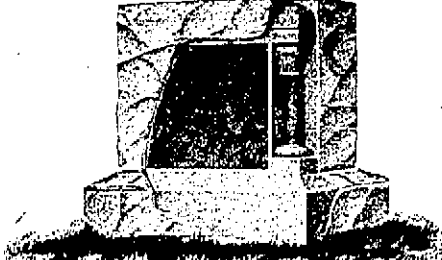

The program just issued for the first week of the session is an attractive one, including as it does a number of public lectures on various subjects of interest. In science Dr. Al. Meyer of the department of comparative anatomy will give a public lecture on Fertilization and Cleavage; and Professor Bardeen will lecture on the human skeleton. Organic evolution will be the topic of a lecture by Dr. Wagner; while Professor Kahlenberg will discuss the Nature of the Process of Solution. Professor Charles W. Kent of the University of Virginia will begin on Tuesday his course of public lectures on southern literature. Professor Alcee Fortier of Tulane University will discuss the literary significance of Lamartine, while Professor Freeman will talk on Shakespeare, man and poet.

The first meeting of the Germanische Gesellschaft on Thursday, Professor Wm. H. Gerrard of the University of Kansas will give an illustrated lecture in German on Das Nibelungenlied. Dr. B. Estes Howard, who is to take the place of Major Evan R. Jones, will open his course on British and German politics on Thursday, with a public lecture on Bismarck and the German constitution. The first excursion will be made on Saturday morning, and will be of particular interest to the classes in physiography, field geology, and field petrology, as the formations around the shores of Lake Mendota will be studied. Professor Hobbs of the department of geology will lecture on the life history of the lakes, on Tuesday, as introduction to the study of the matters of interest to be observed on the excursion. The social features of the week will be a reception to the faculty and students given at Chadbourne Hall.

Series of Special Lectures In English and American literature Professor Kent and Professor Freeman will give public lectures each week; Professor Fortier will lecture on French literature; and Professor Carruth on German literature. Dr. Howard in a series of public lectures will treat contemporary political conditions in Germany and Great Britain; Professor Rehnisch will cover the field of oriental politics, dealing with the relation of Great Britain, United States, Russia and France with the far eastern nations; Professor Carruth will present some social and economic conditions in the life of Germany today; and Professor Fortier will speak on contemporary French institutions and politics. In the various sciences there will be a half dozen lectures each week. There will be weekly excursions in the department of geology with a preparatory lecture by Professor Hobbs. Dr. Wagner will give two lectures each week which are intended to give a fair idea of the work of Darwin and his followers; and Prof. Caroline Hunt will discuss the general subject of house sanitation. Beginning on Thursday with a talk on "Muscles, their functions and development," Dr. Elsom will discuss topics of importance to those interested in physical training.

the Royal Arcanum could give insurance at materially lower cost than a company which paid large salaries to a numerous staff of officers. In reply, it has been argued that the "regular" company, with its superior systems of profitable investment, could earn large dividends for its policyholders and thus actually reduce the cost of their insurance below that of the fraternal organizations. Without attempting to decide between these opposing views, it may be observed that, while at the outside the "fraternal" insurance rates have been lower, they have in time come to be higher than those of the companies. Thus twenty years ago a man at a certain age could secure insurance in the Royal Arcanum at a yearly rate of $6.40 the $1,000, plus a small sum for "council dues." That was very cheap. Seven years ago, however, his assessments were increased to $8.95, still leaving the cost low. Now it is proposed to increase his charges to $17.16, which approximates to the companies' rates. If he should live seventeen years longer, moreover, he would find his assessments amounting to $64.32 a year, or much more than they would be if he had insured in a "regular" company. This increase of rates with increase of age is, also, particularly objectionable, because it throws the heaviest burden upon a man when he may be least able to bear it.

NOLAN LEAVES THE COMMISSION

ALSO HANDS IN HIS RESIGNATION AS REPUBLICAN CHAIRMAN.

HAS SERVED FOR MANY YEARS

Was One of the First Members of the Fire and Police Commission To Be Appointed.

Thomas S. Nolan, for the past eight years a member of the Police and Fire commission, has tendered his resignation to Mayor Hutchinson to take effect at once. He has also resigned as chairman of the republican county committee, W. A. Jackson, secretary of that organization, having received his resignation. Mr. Nolan's resignation from the Fire and Police commission comes as a surprise and leaves two vacancies on that commission to be filled by the Mayor.

Long Service

Mr. Nolan was made a member of the commission when it was formed in 1897, receiving his appointment from Mayor Baimes. He was reappointed by Mayor Hutchinson and Mayor Hutchinson. For several years past he has been president of the board and his presence at the executive sessions of the board will be missed. P. J. Mout's term as commissioner ended in May, but no successor has been appointed. The other two members of the board are W. S. Jeffris and George McKee. The original board in 1897 was composed of V. P. Richardson, T. S. Nolan, J. P. Baker and W. S. Jeffris.

From County Committee

Mr. Nolan has also resigned from the chairmanship of the republican county committee. Mr. Nolan has conducted the campaigns in Rock county for the past eight years in a most able and efficient manner and his successor will be hard to find. His resignation has been sent to W. A. Jackson, secretary of the committee, and a successor will doubtless be elected at some meeting of the board in the near future.

New State Law

The reason for Mr. Nolan's resignations is perhaps found in the new state law. Chapt. 486, laws of 1905, in which the use of a free pass is prohibited by any person holding a civic or political office. Mr. Nolan, an attorney for the St. Paul and Northern Pacific, comes under this provision and promptly resigned rather than give up his free transportation. The effect of the law will be sweeping and many others holding notary public offices or memberships of political committees may be forced to resign if they ride on free railway passes.

OVERBECK THE SOLE STATE GAME WARDEN

New Law Prohibits Him From Having Any Deputies Until Apointed and Approved

There is only one game warden in the state of Wisconsin who is at present vested with any authority and he is Chief Game Warden Henry Overbeck. It is the most peculiar state of affairs which has ever been heard of, and it almost assumes the characteristics of an intensely practical joke. A bill was introduced by Senator Wiperman of Grand Rapids to the effect that all game wardens should, upon appointment, be clothed with authority by the use of an identification card system. That is, each of them must be able to exhibit a card which shall bear the signature of the governor, and the photograph of the possessor. The bill looked harmless enough to casual observers, and was passed with no opposition. To the surprise of everyone it received the signature of Gov. La Follette on the last day of the session, just previous to his departure for Oklahoma territory. It is easy to see in just what positions the game wardens are now. The governor is several hundred miles away, and they need his signature to give them any authority. Of course, Mr. Overbeck can make the appointments, but they cannot be ratified until the return of the governor, which, it is understood, is all of two weeks distant. As a result of this, abrupt abolishment of all game warden appointments by the passage of this bill, there was trouble in Madison yesterday. One of the wardens tried to make a seizure of fish, and was powerless to do so. He telephoned to Mr. Overbeck, who hurried to the spot as the only official in the state who had the power to make a confiscation.

which he entered a claim for when this county was being given to settlers about sixty-seven years ago.

A Green Mountain Boy. Daniel McKellips was born in New Hampshire, March 17, 1807, and there the first years of his life were spent. In 1837 he journeyed toward the west and came to Rock county. He had left his father and brother in Indiana but entered two claims, one of five hundred acres for his father and the other of one hundred and sixty acres for himself. On his return to Indiana he joined his parents and brought them to their new home in Wisconsin. Of the five children, Daniel, the oldest, is the only one still living.

Married in the East. About six years before his migration to Rock county, Mr. McKellips had been united in the bonds of marriage with Miss Elmyra Woodward and to them were born five children. In 1878 Mrs. McKellips was summoned by death, and left to mourn her death a husband and two children. Since that time Mr. McKellips has lived with his son who manages the farm.

Much Respected Citizen. Mr. McKellips has for a number of years now been retired from active life but he still retains a keen interest in the affairs of the community where he lives, the state and the nation. He has always been a voter of the democratic ticket and is one of the staunchest members of the party in Rock county.

WALLOPED BY A GIGANTIC SCORE

Janesville Pythian Base Ball Team Defeated 22 to 2 in Game with Clinton Yesterday.

The Knights of Pythias baseball team, the delegation of rooters that accompanied them, and the Imperial band had a good time in Clinton yesterday and that, after all, was the object of the pilgrimage. Some consoling word was needed by the home nine after the Clinton aggregation got through with them. The score on the blackboard stood 22 to 2. When the return game is played in this city it is hoped that the story will be different. Wendt and Mitceni were in the box for the locals and Joe Pye went behind the batter's plate. O. A. Oestreich held down first. Walter Johnson was at second, Louis Levy did some brilliant work at short, and Warren Skelly proved a miracle worker at third. Ward Stevens, Jesse Earle and William Dougherty were out in the garden and demonstrated their fitness for the positions. Following the game the visitors were tendered a banquet and the whole Clinton contingent were at the depot to bid them farewell.

TELEGRAPH STUDENT WAS TOLD TO LEAVE

Young Man Named Enright, Suspected of Robbing His Room-Mate, Hears from the City Marshal

City Marshal Comstock was called by John H. Myers this morning to settle up some trouble that had arisen between two telegraph students who were rooming together on the third floor of the building just a stairway below the Myers store on South Main street. One of them, a crippled boy by the name of Earl Parish, had missed some money amounting to about $8 shortly after his roommate, Enright, had left the premises this morning. The latter denied the charge, when confronted with the accusation, but after Marshal Comstock told him he could either produce the money or go to jail, he called Parish out into the hallway and reimbursed him for his loss. The city marshal then told Enright that he would give him until this evening to get out of town. This is not the first complaint that has come from the same quarter.

Attracted Large Concourse of People Who Had to Endure Discomfort to Hear It.

A large concourse of people stood in the street and listened to the band concert on the Corn Exchange last evening. The program was a very good one and excellently rendered. ## MISS HUMPHREY IS HOME FROM PANAMA Springs Surprise on Relatives and Friends by Arriving a Week Earlier Than Expected.

Miss Mary Humphrey gave her mother and relatives a surprise this morning by telegraphing from Chicago that she would be home on the noon train. She had succeeded in catching a boat leaving Panama two days earlier than she expected to sail and dispensing with a few days' visit in Cleveland, which she had planned ahead of the time her relatives and friends were expecting her. Her visit here will last several weeks, as she has a six weeks' vacation from her duties in the Government hospital at Ancon, Canal Zone.

Milwaukee Sentinel: If Capt. Lloyd Clark of the United States supply station at St. Joseph, Mich., is correctly reported, he appears to have made a rather absurd spectacle of himself and committed an official impropriety by sending an impertinent telegram to Gov. Bell of Vermont instructing him as to his executive duty in the matter of Mrs. Rogers, the murderess who is sentenced to be hanged on Friday next. Capt. Clark is a brother of Admiral Clark, who achieved some reputation through bringing the Oregon round the Horn to Cuban waters on time during the Spanish war, and he apparently presumes on that fact in his bumptious attempt to interfere with the course of civil administration in the state of Vermont.

CHICAGO'S GREAT PROBLEM

Can the Hustling Western Metropolis Run Her Surface Railroads Now That She Has the Opportunity?

Dalrymple, the Man Trained For Years in Municipal Ownership and in Absolute Charge of Glasgow's Famous System, Studies the Situation.

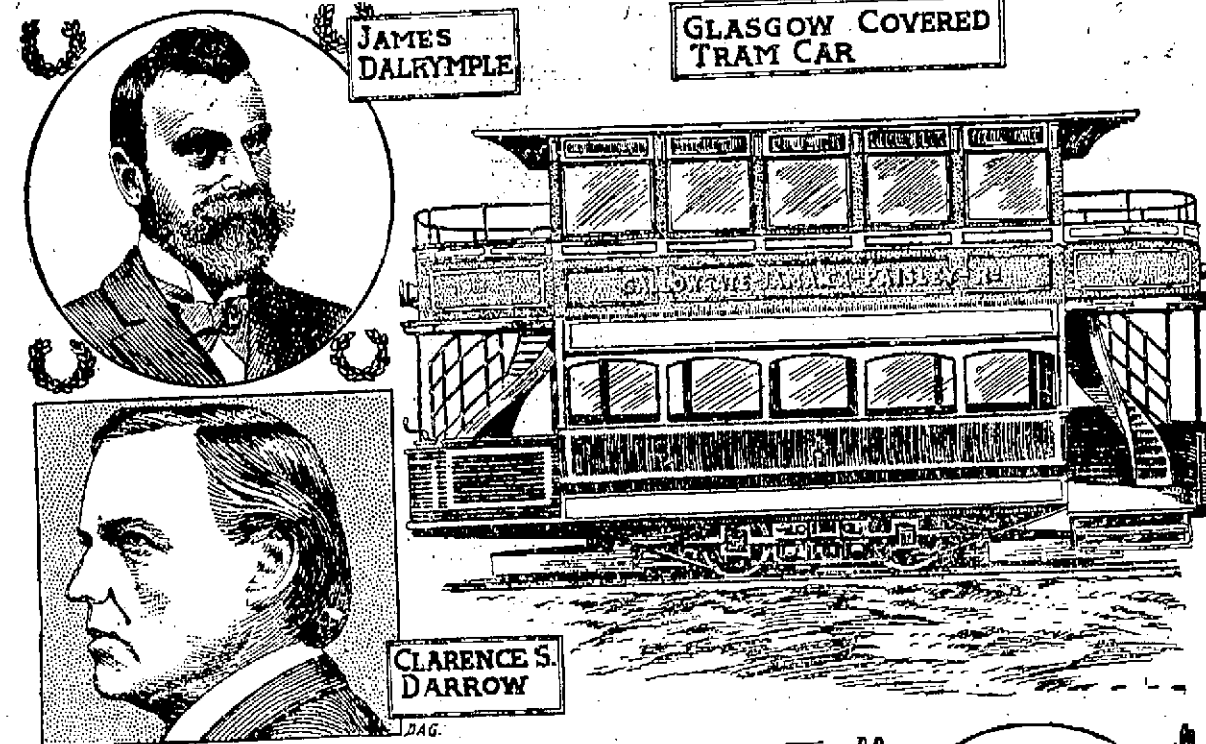

Convinced That "Something Ought to Be Done," He Does Not Say What Will Send His Conclusions to Mayor Dunne in Writing.

Chicago, Realizing That She Is Committed to an Experiment That Is Worldwide in Interest, Says She Can and Will Succeed.

When Solomon said, "There is nothing new under the sun," he had not even a glimmer of the problems that confront modern civilization. Otherwise he would have had so many new perplexities before him that he would have had no time for unending proverbs. Solomon of course had nothing to do with municipal ownership of street railways, though he did have minor difficulties, such as managing 300 wives, building a temple and ruling a kingdom. Now, Mayor Dunne of Chicago, has but one wife to look after, lets his building department attend to the temples, skyscrapers and the rest, while he only has a latter day, roaring, bustling, jumping city to govern. Still, he could doubtless give Solomon pointers on the fact that there are many new things under the sun, not the least of which are new kinds of trouble.

Glasgow Most Famous in City Control.

Americans have scarcely realized that a wonderful thing is taking place in Chicago, or, rather, is about to take place, a new thing in our history, for outside of a few, small towns city ownership and operation of street railways have been unknown on this side of the water. In Great Britain over forty municipalities run their own transportation, and, stimulated by their example, the system is spreading on the continent. Practically the first of the British cities to introduce municipal ownership was Glasgow, Scotland, and her example is still the most famous. This doubtless accounts for the fact that when last fall Judge Edward F. Dunne received such a sweeping majority for mayor of our second city, and that on the issue of the immediate municipal ownership of the street railways, he called to Glasgow to ship over an expert with whom to advise. Glasgow graciously responded by sending the manager of her tramway system, Mr. James Dalrymple, whose sojourn in America has just come to an end. Mr. Dalrymple spent several weeks in studying the situation in American cities and promised to write out his conclusions on his way home, to be sent to Mayor Dunne as soon as completed. It may be said in passing that the widely published interview with Mr. Dalrymple, sent out from Philadelphia, in which he is made to advise American cities against municipal ownership because of our political machines and spoils system, he has denied almost in toto, merely remarking that politics and municipal ownership must be utterly divorced. His real views on the question will only be known finally and authoritatively when he sends them officially to Mayor Dunne.

Surface Lines Electrified in Three Years.

Mr. Dalrymple while in America gave several very lucid talks and interviews as to the development of municipal ownership in Glasgow. It seems that the city built its own lines in 1871, but leased them to a private company to be operated. The lease extended over a period of twenty-three years, and at the end of that time conditions were so unsatisfactory that the city refused to extend the lease, but decided to adopt the then innovation of operating the roads herself. This was in 1894. At that time there were only horse cars, the employees were unwell, incompetent and for the most part unfit persons, a strike was threatened, cars were not in good condition and complaints from the citizens were going up on every side. The companies, Mr. Dalrymple said, thought that the city could not operate the lines and therefore would make no promises of improvement, believing that they had a practical monopoly. Glasgow soon showed them next. It is safe to say that the city back of him is just as earnest as he. The motto of Chicago is "I will." She has declared by a great majority for immediate municipal ownership of street railways, and her history as well as her motto shows that she will accomplish the thing on which she has set her heart. It is a radical step, and all American cities will eagerly watch the result.

One of the men who has been largely instrumental in bringing about this revolution in the public sentiment of the Lake City is Mr. Clarence S. Darrow, the noted labor lawyer and former partner of the late Governor Altgeld. Two years ago Mr. Darrow was himself labor candidate for mayor, but withdrew in order to combine the municipal ownership sentiment. He is an eloquent speaker, and his voice and pen have been enlisted in this cause for many years.

"I Will," Chicago's Motto.

Mayor Dunne himself belongs to the best type of American citizenship. Clean, high minded, upright, able and careful, his face shows that he is endowed with sufficient will power to carry out any purpose to which he sets himself. He was a judge before being elevated to his present position and enjoys the confidence and respect of all classes and parties. He is in the vigor of middle age, and his heart is thoroughly in the work to which he has set his hand.

Behind him stands Chicago, holding aloft that motto now so fraught with meaning: "I will."

First Appearance of Danforth's Fore-runner of Future Baldness.

That such is the case has been conclusively proven by scientific research. The hair becomes lifeless, and, in time, falls out. This can be prevented.

Newborn's Herpelde kills this dandruff germ, and restores the hair to its natural vigor and beauty.

Herpelde is now used by thousands of people—all satisfied that it is the most wonderful hair preparation on the market to-day.

THE GREATEST EPOCH OF MARRIAGE

The first is the most crucial time. If for the first time the greatest event in your married life is about to occur, how important, how wrapt up in it you find yourselves. You try to overlook, but in vain, that element of uncertainty and danger that you have been led to expect from the experience of those mothers and fathers who have struggled through this ordeal in ignorance of what it is, and what it does. If at this time every expectant man and wife might know of this greatest of boons, devised for the express purpose of alleviating and dispelling the suffering and consequent danger of childbirth, how quickly would all doubt and worry be dissipated.

Mother's Friend is an invaluable liniment for external massage, through whose potent agency countless mothers have been enabled to experience the joy of parturition for the first time without danger to themselves or their offspring.

MAY FRUSTRATE PLANS OF PEACE

Russia Holds Back When It Comes to Asking for Armistice.

JAPAN IS WILLING TO CONSENT

Victors, However, Decline to Take the Initiative, Depending on Result of Coming Battle to Enhance Their Right to Indemnity.

Washington, June 24.—President Roosevelt is trying to show Russia that it will be to the advantage of that nation to make overtures to Japan for an armistice. Japan has informally expressed to the president a willingness to consent to an armistice provided Russia will ask such an arrangement. Strangely enough, Russia, with everything to lose and nothing to gain from a clash between the armies in Manchuria, hesitates to accept the president's advice and wants Japan to make overtures for an armistice. Japan will never consent to make the advance, and unless the president makes better progress with Russia in the next few days the world will hear of a great battle. It would not be surprising to those who are informed of the situation if the dispatches should report the annihilation of the Russian army.

Pride May Block Peace.

Russia's pride, and her peculiar methods in diplomacy, may frustrate all the good work the president has done in the direction of peace. No assurances whatever can be given of the extent to which the Japanese demands may be changed in the event of another big battle. Nevertheless, with peace within their grasp, and to be had for the asking, Russia hesitates. President Roosevelt appreciates the seriousness of the situation, and Ambassador Meyer at St. Petersburg is making frequent calls at the foreign office to impress the president's views upon the Russian government. At present the indications are that Russia will permit the waste of much blood and greatly embarrass her position by another battle rather than have hostilities suspended simply because the czar does not like the idea of asking Japan to agree to an armistice.

May Repair Russian Ships.

In response to a request cabled the war department by the governor general of the Philippine Islands in behalf of the Russian Admiral Enquist that he be allowed to return his sick and wounded officers and men upon giving their parole not to engage in hostilities during the war, and to be allowed to bring certain material for repairing damaged ships, the secretary has sent the following cablegram:

"You may allow Russian admiral to embark his sick and wounded officers and men on Russian hospital ship, daily expected, upon their giving parole not to engage in hostilities during the war. You may also allow them to bring from Shanghai material for repairing vessels, other than munitions of war, such as cordage, sail cloth, waste and oil, for machinery, etc., but the vessels are still to remain in internment."

Russians Are Puzzled.

Gunsburg Pass, June 24.—The Japanese are no longer pressing the Russians from the south and doubt is now entertained as to whether the weak offensive is the precursor of a big battle or a diplomatic maneuver. Belief in the prompt conclusion of peace is weakening. The heat is intolerable. Even the nights afford little relief.

Oyama Reports Successes.

Tokio, June 24.—The following official dispatch has been received from the headquarters of the Japanese armies in Manchuria:

"In the vicinity of Yingcheng, June 21, 1,000 of the enemy's infantry, pressing our scouts, advanced, and when they reached Hsiangyangchen, ten miles southeast of Wankauzhen, our forces repulsed them with heavy loss and pursued them to the vicinity of Weyuanpao."

"After our force, which occupied Yangmullatu, June 19, had completed their mission, they returned."

"The enemy, consisting of three battalions and four squadrons, with twelve guns, advanced through the eastern districts of the Kirin road and moved southward June 21. From 11:30 in the morning his infantry gradually appeared on the heights between Chapangan and Lichuan, and his artillery, posted on the heights of Lienhuachien, shelled the northern heights of Nantchenzy. Our force, after a few hours' engagement, assaulted this offensive and completely repulsed the enemy, captured the heights and pursued him."

"Otherwise the situation is unchanged."

Bank Cashier Gives Bond.

Hotel Guests Lose Valuables.

Servant Girls Have Money.

In Germany the number of servant girls who have savings bank accounts is nearly three times as large as that of shop girls who have them.

ILLINOIS MINERWORKERS OFFER TO ARBITRATE

Proposition to Operators to Allow Governor Deneen to Settle Dispute Over Shot-Firers.

Springfield, Ill., June 24.—The state executive board of the United Mine Workers of America Friday offered the Illinois Coal Operators' association to submit to arbitration the question whether the miners, by asking for a shot-firer law, had violated their agreement with the coal operators' association, as claimed by the operators. The offer to arbitrate is made with the understanding that if the decision be in the affirmative the miners shall reimburse the operators for wages paid the shot-firers required by the law, but should the decision be in the negative the operators are to continue operating their mines under the existing agreement and furnish shot-firers. The miners propose that the question be left with Gov. Deneen for arbitration, his decision to be final.

Should the operators decline to accept the governor as arbitrator it is proposed that each side select two representatives, who shall have power to arbitrate with authority, but in case of a disagreement to select a fifth man, whose decision shall be final and shall be in effect after July 1, 1905. The proposition is left open to acceptance by the operators up to and including June 30.

The state executive board of the miners' organization will probably meet here next Monday, when it is expected the answer of the operators will be received. The miners' national president, John Mitchell, will be present then.

GOOD ROADS MEN IN TROUBLE

Rivalry for Presidency Causes Clash in Convention at Portland.

Portland, Ore., June 24.—For a time Friday two rival presidents tried to control the good roads convention, and confusion reigned. President Moore of Chicago having refused to allow an election of officers, Secretary Richardson appointed a telling committee to canvass the vote of the delegates as to the presidency. The result was a vote of 69 to 13 in Richardson's favor. Richardson immediately assumed a position beside President Moore, who would not withdraw. Standing side by side, Moore using his wooden gavel and Richardson rapping for order with a brick, both tried to direct the convention. Finally J. H. Scott of Salem, Ore., was made temporary chairman, and Moore and Richardson withdrew. A committee was appointed to draft a new constitution.

GOVERNOR OF HAWAII RESIGNS

Carter Follows Letter to Washington to See the President.

Honolulu, June 24.—Gov. Carter, who mailed his resignation to President Roosevelt Wednesday sailed Friday for Washington to discuss the matter of his retirement from the governorship. He has been in cable correspondence with the president regarding it and had received permission to visit the national capital for a personal interview. Gov. Carter said he urged President Roosevelt to accept his resignation and appoint a successor. His action, it is declared, was not due to the election of E. M. Brown as high sheriff, but had been under consideration for some time.

PANIC AT INFERMARRY IS CAUSED BY FLAMES

Explosion of Gasoline Tank Causes a Stampede at County Poorhouse.

Near Muskegon, Mich.

Muskegon, Mich., June 24.—In a panic which followed an explosion and fire at the county poorhouse one was fatally injured and three workmen were severely burned.

Thomas McFadden, a plumber, noticed flames near a gasoline tank. Before he could prevent it the tank exploded, shooting flames over an acre of ground. Seventy-five cripples and half-witted inmates of the institution were confined in the basement of the building, and when the flames swept over their heads there was a wild stampede. The inmates were crushed in their mad flight for the open air. When the terror stricken wards had been quietly several women were found severely bruised. Mrs. Carl, 75 years old, being in a serious condition. From the basement the fire spread rapidly, the building being practically destroyed. The loss is estimated at $80,000 with $48,000 insurance.

HAD HUSBANDS TO BURN.

What a Spinster Said About a Widowed Friend Just from the Country.

A good sort of trolley conductor, who has ears for other things besides the bell of his fare register, and whose run in Brooklyn brings him passengers to and from a certain cemetery, vouches for this story, says the New York Sun: "A woman boarded his car at the cemetery the other day shaking with sobs. She had not been in the car long when two women took seats opposite her. One of them seemed to recognize the woman from the cemetery, hesitated for a moment, then crossed the aisle and spoke to her. The sobbing one looked up and the identification was complete. "Why, Mary," said the woman who had crossed the aisle, "where have you been for so long, and what is the matter?" "I have been married," came the sobbing answer, "and I'm just after cremating my husband."

Condolences were offered and the widow soon afterward left the car, apparently cheered, while her friend returned to the seat beside her companion and told all that that Mary had unbosomed to her.

"And she's got husbands to burn," remarked the companion enviously, "while I'm still single."

BUSINESS SHOWS GOOD INCREASE

Weekly Review of Chicago Trade Indicates Satisfactory Condition.

FAVORABLE OUTLOOK FOR CROPS

Interior Merchants Report Weather Influences Tend to Induce Heavy Purchases Over the Counter in Seasonable Merchandise.

Chicago, June 24.—The weekly review of trade in the Chicago district, published by the R. G. Dun & Co. mercantile agency, says:

"Business generally made an increasingly satisfactory exhibit. Less hindrance was felt in local deliveries, the distribution of leading commodities remained of large volume, and new demands upon producers were well maintained. The iron and steel output exceeds all former tonnage records. Finished woodwork and building material are in strong request, testifying to further activity in construction, and the shipments of staple merchandise reached an increased aggregate. Prices for manufactured products show continued firmness, and supplies, although abundant, are quickly absorbed. These gratifying conditions establish greater confidence in future operations. Other favorable factors are seen in the prospective crops, cheaper money, light failures and prompt collections for both city and country."

Stocks Show Depletion.

"Weather influences induced wider dealings in the principal retail branches, and the buying of wearing apparel, footwear, household and vacation needs surpassed that of a year ago. This improvement also is found in the interior stores. The result has been a rapid depletion of stocks, and urgent demands upon jobbers for re-assortments. Forward selections of textiles and other lines of fall and winter goods now are more in evidence, bookings thus far running ahead of the average in dry goods, clothing, shoes and furniture."

"Manufacturing moves steadily. Firmness in prices and new commitments obtained furnished a solid basis in the metal, wood and leather departments. No diminution appears in iron and steel production, furnace output is in more request, and specifications have gained in rails, structural steel, cars, and heavy machinery."

Railroad Construction is Active.

"Additional plans are noted in railroad extensions, bridge and factory building, involving much future consumption of structural material. Lumber receipts, 37,000,000 feet, compare favorably with those of a year ago. Dealers report continued strong demand for both factory and building purposes. Receipts of hides are under the recent high aggregate, 3,047,720 pounds, comparing with 3,115,323 pounds for the corresponding week of 1904. The leather working lines make a large output and good buying characterizes hides and all tanned product. "Failures reported in the Chicago district were 17, against 30 last week, and 10 a year ago."

Tallmadge Southwestern Land company, on the charge of subornation of perjury. Tallmadge was taken before United States Land Commissioner Karl Snyder and gave $5,000 bond. Mr. Tallmadge declares all of his deals have been according to law.

Hundred Thousandth Pheasant.

There is a game preserve in Germany owned by Count Tschirchsky. Renard, who has raised a monument in honor of the kaiser. It commemorates the occasion when the kaiser shot his fifty thousandth cock pheasant. Marble and opirphy bear witness to this achievement for the rest of time. But that happy cock pheasant was immolated two years ago, and since then the kaiser's bag has grown prodigiously. What monument, even in brass, will be good enough to celebrate his hundred thousandth cock pheasant?—London Chronicle.

Hoppe a Wizard. Plans of the Young American Billiard Champion Who Defeated Schaefer.

Willie Hoppe, the Admiral Togo of the billiard world, recently closed an engagement at a New York billiard academy, during which he defeated several leading experts. His many victories during the last three years defy enumeration. Hoppe has just passed his eighteenth birthday, and yet he stands at the very top of the list of professional billiard players.

This boy is unquestionably the most marvelous billiard player the world has ever known, as was shown in his recent series of games with the great Jake Schaefer in Boston, when he made a grand average of 25 against the "Wizard's" 23.

Willie Hoppe was born at Cornwall-on-the-Hudson, about a two hours' ride from New York, and has been playing billiards almost since he was a child. He commenced to attract the attention of billiard experts when he was ten years of age and has constantly improved in his playing ever since, until today he stands second to none of the great exponents of the game—our own "Wizard" Schaefer not excepted.

He possesses the coolness and nerve of a veteran, and for delicacy of touch, sweep of stroke and brilliancy of execution has no superior.

Hoppe will commence a two weeks' engagement on Aug. 7 at Mike Sweeney's billiard parlors, on the board walk at Atlantic City, where he will give exhibitions in fancy billiard playing for the entertainment of the thousands who throng the famous New Jersey watering place. The boy's father, who directs the affairs of his noted son, has about completed arrangements to go abroad this fall and has arranged their itinerary so as to enable the boy to give exhibitions in all the principal European cities. It is expected that a match will be arranged with Ira Morningstar when they reach Paris.

Morningstar has expressed a willingness to play the young American a thousand points up for $1,000 a side at eighteen inch ball line.

past two years and is looked upon by the billiard experts on the other side of the Atlantic as an unbeatable champion.

Hoppe is undoubtedly the best on this side of the Atlantic.

HITCHCOCK AS HAMLET.

Comedian Says He Can Improve Playing of Historic Role.

Let Nat Goodwin and Francis Wilson look to their laurels. They must not think that they are the only graduates from light opera that can turn the trick on the "legitimate" stage. Raymond Hitchcock, not content with the glory that has come to him through his performance of George Ade's "The Yankee Consul," years ago, has a try at William Shakespeare's "Hamlet."

"I have made an exhaustive study of 'Hamlet' and am honestly ambitious to play the part. I intend to do so at the earliest possible opportunity. No doubt a lot of persons will laugh at this, but that does not make any difference. It is my opinion that 'Hamlet' has not been played naturally enough—at least by impersonators of the role that have come under my view. My wife, Flora Zabelle, has dubbed the performance of the character I have in mind 'the human Hamlet,' and that at least is alliterative."

Meanwhile Mr. Hitchcock understands that he is slated by Henry W. Savage to appear next season in the new piece that manager has accepted from John Kendrick Bangs called "The Spectroscopic." It was read to the comedian for the first time a few days ago.

Baseball's Development.

Major league baseball has been developed to such a state that one error, one hit or one little slip up of any sort may decide the game. In the olden time a batting rally of several runs did not mean that a game was won or lost, for the other team probably would come back and so their opponents a run or two better. One run is deciding lots of games these days.

A Mile In Fifty-three Seconds

Champion Oldfield Tells How It Feels to Whirl Through Space on an Auto—"Danger Makes the Sport Greatest on Earth."

By BARNEY OLDFIELD.

How does it feel to travel a mile in fifty-three seconds? Well, that is hard to describe. I worked myself up to this wonderful speed, so I cannot tell the sensations a novice would experience when making the trip. I have taken on different occasions a newspaper man for a ride with me, and his experience has always been such that he says he will never forget it. There is a roaring in the ears, a stinging ing sensation from the dust and obstacles that strike the face when traveling at this great speed. My companions say that the dust the driver who may be ahead turns up feels like hail being dashed into the face. Then there is the pressure against the face. When going a mile in fifty-three seconds I cover 120 feet per second. It feels, I am told by those who drive with me, that something seems as though it is being pressed against the face, forcing the flesh tight against the bones. Added to that is the roaring sound in the ears from the wind. The long stretch looms up ahead of one like a gray ribbon, and then we are into the turn.

There is a sickening, sliding feeling as the rear wheels slip and try to take hold of the track and the front ones point inward. It is the friction that wears through the tires in a few miles. Then we turn into the back stretch and head for the next turn. Again the faltering sliding as before. It takes the coolest hand and most practiced eye to execute those turns, as traveling at this rate of speed the least variation is fatal. Of course there are many ways one can be hurt. There is the wearing out of the tires and the expansion from the friction that causes them to burst, and then there is the breaking of some part of the machine. I never think of them excepting in a general way.

It is only before the start that I am at all nervous, and then it is about the machine. Is it right? Is every nut and bolt in place? Sometimes I look two and three times at certain parts to see if they are as they should be. And then I think about the way the car will start. Will I get a good lead around the first turn or will I have to take the dust which is sometimes so blinding that I have to feel my way as in the dark? I know I think about several of these things, but with the start of the race they seem to vanish. And then it is speed, speed, speed! Can I get more out of the car? No matter how far I am ahead there is a desire—a cry, that comes from within—which says faster. And faster, still faster, I urge my now sliding, bouncing car.

Around the turns and into the stretch until I see the man I am in pursuit of just ahead of me, which shows that I have lapped him, and then it is the desire to pass him. To get as far ahead as possible, as the machine may falter or go bad, and then I will need the lead that I have attained while I adjust it. Yes, I think many things when I am going at this speed, which men of science said a few years ago was impossible. I think two miles a minute possible on a circular track, and I hope to be the first man to do it.

I said that it was possible on straightaway courses, and this has been demonstrated, as my car has earned the name of the two miles a minute car for straightaway racing. And it will be possible on the track also when they get the regular automobile tracks finished they are now building in several parts of the country. A mile in less than a minute was considered more impossible on a circular track a few years ago than two miles a minute is considered now. Yes, it is a great game, the greatest on earth because of the danger. I have defeated foreigners much easier than I defeated Americans. I consider the American the greatest automobile driver of them all.
